Component Mission

The Assistant Director of National Intelligence for Systems and Resource Analyses (ADNI/SRA) is the principle staff assistant and advisor to the Director of National Intelligence (DNI) on matters pertaining to program analyses, evaluation, and resource allocation through independent analyses and advice relevant to the National Intelligence Program (NIP) and the Military Intelligence Program. As the principle advisor to the DNI on these matters, the ADNI/SRA analyzes, evaluates, and provides alternative plans, programs, and budgets for DNI priority objectives, projected threats, estimated costs, and resource constraints.

Major Duties and Responsibilities (MDRs)

- Lead, manage, and oversee cost estimating activities for major system acquisitions and coordinate those activities with the Intelligence Community (IC) cost groups, IC agencies and industry partners.
- Lead cost estimating efforts for major issue teams and conduct in-depth affordability assessments, alternative analysis and trade studies and implement innovative solutions to support program budget builds. Manage, plan, and conduct research projects leading to improved analytical concepts, methods, and techniques.
- Direct the development of new cost estimating methods, tools and techniques and research and collect historical cost data on IC programs to support cost estimates and affordability assessments.
- Lead the collaboration, sharing of information and techniques with cost groups and conduct outreach activities with other government agencies, academia institutions, industry partners and professional organizations
- Serve as a subject matter expert, provide technical expertise to evaluate program cost estimates and extended budget projections and identify and quantify budgetary, cost, schedule, technical, and programmatic risk factors related to programs. Serve on technical and financial boards and committees and oversee the development standards and techniques for evaluating adequacy of cost activities and capabilities.
- Prioritize and initiate oversight activities related to commodity areas of cost analysis and budgetary responsibilities to help ensure sufficient resource availability.
- Enforce and implement cost estimating guidance and policies and ensure portfolio programs adhering to these standards.

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR OF NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE
